

I STRONGLY support XM's right to broadcast local weather and traffic information. The security that this service provides my wife is invaluable! She can instantly access the information that she needs without having to search through local channel to try and obtain the information. The safety factor of simply having one channel to tune to in the event of bad weather or traffic congestion is a great safety feature of XM radio. This feature was the deciding factor in our purchase of the system.